VISION

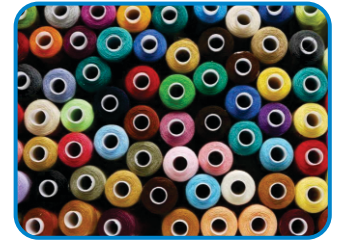

To become the most respected organization in the healthcare & garment sector, touching billion lives across the globe by providing safe and quality products and services.

Stages of Product Development

Fabric Sourcing

Fine cottons come from the south as well as from north, while synthetics and viscose in all its forms are best available from the western region of India. SPM Medicare Pvt. Ltd. has developed good relationships with suppliers in India and abroad to ensure a steady and efficient supply.

In order to monitor supply and quality we have assigned duties to our people in order to procure the best quality in printing and dyeing mills in the country.

Designing & Sampling

We have in house designing department. Our designer using mood boards after analyzing trends of last few seasons. Further, the designer frequently travels to various countries to get experience & research on latest catwalks trends, lifestyle trends, and current competition analysis. Our showroom displays the latest designs and fabrics developed each season.

Production

As our core competency, we are most concerned with this department's function. We have incorporated the latest assembly line techniques with statistical process control methods across all functions to ensure maximum quality and output. Further to focus more closely on the process, we have empowered quality controllers who constantly monitor production using AQL standards.

Finishing & Dispatching

To ensure that the final packed garment is perfect in all respects, we have our Finishing Department that looks after each and every garments. Plants, steam pressing and rapid drying processes give the garment that crisp finish. We go to great lengths to ensure that the final presentation of your garment is just right.
